DR JONAS FLUECK FORMS LUGDUNUM GMBH

Dr Jonas Flueck is the creator of the Ex-Numis tool for searching coin auction catalogs by image. Here's a press release about his new firm, Lugdunum GmbH. -Editor

“A passion for history, a taste for aesthetics and ethical respect,” this is how Dr. Jonas Emmanuel Flueck describes his work in the coin business. As executive director of the auction house “Lugdunum GmbH”, based in Solothurn (Switzerland), his consignors’ satisfaction is his top priority.

The catalogs of both his public auctions as well as his e-auctions demonstrate his strong commitment to the highest scientific standards. He organizes online auctions several times a year. Once or twice a year, public auctions are planned in Zurich. The first appraisal of any possible consignment is free of charge.

In addition, Lugdunum GmbH specializes in consulting and supporting collectors, particularly regarding auction representations. However, you can certainly also expect all of the services good coin dealerships are known for, including the acquisition of coins and medals.

Dedicated coin collectors certainly already know Dr. Jonas Emmanuel Flueck, who speaks several languages fluently. The historian has been working in the coin business for more than a decade. As a numismatist working at Spink in London and later at Hess Divo – where he advanced to the position of managing director – he was in charge of numerous catalogs and auctions.

Dr. Emmanuel Flueck is part of the young generation of coin dealers who are generally referred to as “digital natives”. He considers new technologies both a chance and a challenge. As a trained archeologist, he is aware of the problems that can arise in the context of cultural property laws. Which is why he established the Ex-Numis project in 2016. The latest image detection software and an archive of hundreds of thousands of auction catalog images allow him to quickly find out whether or not a coin has already been shown in an auction catalog. Needless to say, the research of provenance of ancient coins is part of his own auction catalogs as well.

Dr. Flueck is also an active member of numerous international associations. In 2017, he held the office of treasurer at the IAPN (International Association of Professional Numismatists). In 2018, he took over the position of general secretary at the Verband Schweizerischer Berufsnumismatiker.
